Whitt 007/RUC Zoom Room 1021

Members Present: Jessie Beckett, Sandra Bond, Ashlee Claud, Sarah Cox, Alix Guynn, Steve Harrison, Debra Johnson, Kay Johnson, Jonathan Renz (for Mel Fox), Mary Catherine Santoro, Malinda Tasler, Susan Trageser (Cabinet Liaison), Jon Zeitz

Guests: Christina Manzo, Glen Mayhew, Chad Reed

- 1. Call to Order: The meeting was called to order at 3:31 pm by President Sandra Bond.
- 2. Approval of Minutes: The minutes from November 17, 2021 were approved.
- 3. Budget Update: Chad Reed, Vice President of Finance and Administration and Chief Financial Officer. Radford University is in a good place with the budget. The Governor's budget is released tomorrow. Financial aid was increased, which can offset costs. We asked for base support at $500 per FTE, which is approximately $3.6 million for the biennium. Lots of budgets are impacted by contracts and wage compression. We asked for a lot of capital requests, including $16 million for a natural gas cogeneration facility, which will save $2 million in operational savings. McConnell Library is now the highest building priority, with $4 million for the planning stage. The last infrastructure proposal is for $15 million to replace roofs, steam tunnels, etc. The CAIC building will have cost overruns, but the university has requested additional funds. The state's economic outlook is robust, and it is hopeful there will be additional operating support to keep tuition low and support priorities.

We didn't hit the enrollment target, but are in an acceptable range. Some budget realignment work will be done. SCHEV is working on a funding model for higher education for the first time. Since 2010, tuition is the primary support for E&G funds.

- 4. Guest Speaker: Jon Zeitz, Assistant Athletics Director for Business Development. (See Presentation slides after these minutes.)
Jon's main goal is to raise money through corporate sponsorships. We have 15 Division 1 Teams in the Big South Conference: Men's baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, and tennis; and women's basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, tennis, track & field, and volleyball. We have a 93% graduation rate among Radford Student-Athletes. People come here for Academics.
  - Hannah Moran – Cross Country – Was Big South Runner of the Year.
  - Darris Nichols – new Head Men's Basketball Coach. Very highly regarded assistant coach at Florida. He grew up in Radford and went to Radford High.
  - Upcoming event: Champion Her Future Leadership Dinner – Fundraiser focuses on scholarship support and mentorship of women student athletes.
  - Tickets – RU students have free admission to all athletic events. Faculty/staff have discounted rates on men's & women's basketball season tickets, and there are faculty/staff appreciation games.In answer to a question about sponsorships, Jon described they go to local, regional & national businesses to expose corporate logos attached to RU athletics. It is effective to grant intellectual property rights for businesses to use the Radford logo with the business logo, which is reserved for the premium level of sponsorship.
In answer to a question about whether intramural sports falls under Athletics, Susan Trageser confirmed intramural sports falls under Student Recreation and Wellness. There are opportunities and funding for RUC to join rec students locally in Roanoke. There also virtual gaming leagues across both campuses.

5. AP Faculty Morale Survey: (See Revised Final Draft appended to these minutes.)

Sandra read the sections on the revised survey report followed by discussion. For Section Two, we will clarify “contributions to mental and physical health” on the year two survey. Next year’s survey may also show whether funding for professional development was pandemic-related (fewer in-person events, etc.). Discussion included the areas of administrative communication and opportunities to give feedback (Section 4). Mary Catherine will revise the Final Draft to change the language from “excluded” to “not meaningfully involved” for Section 5.

The following motion was raised, seconded, voted, and approved: Accept the AP Faculty Morale Survey as revised, and move the survey forward to Radford University Administration.

Susan Trageser, in consultation with Interim President Lepre, advised Sandra to schedule a time to go through the survey with both of them.

2021 Administrative and Professional Faculty Senate Morale Survey

Senate approved December 15, 2021

In June 2021, the Administrative and Professional (AP) Faculty Senate conducted its first morale survey of AP Faculty. An email with a link to the 45 question survey was sent to all AP Faculty, and they were given three weeks to answer. The survey was sent to 316 AP Faculty members, and we received 121 responses, for a response rate of 38%. For most questions, AP Faculty were asked to select whether they strongly agreed, agreed, disagreed, or strongly disagreed with statements.

The main part of the survey was divided into five sections. Each of these sections are briefly summarized below. The full details for the responses in each category can be seen in the graphs following this introduction, as can information collected on the demographics of the respondents.

Section One: Job Security and Satisfaction (Questions 4-10)

Almost 100% of respondents reported taking pride in their work, and approximately 90% found their role and responsibilities rewarding. About one quarter of respondents expressed some degree of feeling that their jobs were insecure, and only half saw their salary as fair and equitable.

Section Two: Professional Development (Questions 11-23)

Almost all respondents expressed satisfaction with University benefits, though approximately one quarter did not feel comfortable taking time away from work. Two thirds of respondents felt their work contributed to their mental and physical health. Respondents, in general, felt their supervisors supported their taking time for training and professional development, but 40% expressed concern about adequate funding to do so. Despite the general feeling that professional development was supported, over half of the AP Faculty who responded to this survey did not feel they could advance their careers while remaining at Radford University.

Section Three: Respect and Appreciation (Questions 24-30)

The majority of respondents felt they are respected in the work place as both an individual and for their professional knowledge. Nearly all reported seeing their colleagues treat each other with respect. Almost 85% felt they had the necessary autonomy to do their jobs effectively. Of concern, approximately one third had considered leaving Radford University because they felt isolated or unwelcomed.

Section Four: Communication (Questions 31-36)

Over 40% of respondents did not feel University administration communicated openly or that information was conveyed in a timely fashion.

Section Five: Leadership (Questions 37-44)

Over 90% of respondents felt their supervisor treated them fairly and valued their opinions, and over 80% felt their supervisor clearly communicated expectations and provided helpful feedback. 75% of respondents felt University leadership had the necessary skills for institutional success, but over 40% felt AP Faculty were not meaningfully involved in institutional planning.

Written Comments:

Respondents were invited to provide further comments at the end of each section and at the end of the survey. These written comments have been withheld from the report to protect the anonymity of respondents. However, the most common themes found in the written comments across all sections of the survey were:

- Respondents valued their coworkers and supervisors
- Respondents did not feel appreciated outside of their immediate work environment
- Communication was siloed between campuses, divisions, departments
- Respondents felt isolated from colleagues and activities at other campuses
- Respondents felt disconnected from the University's upper administration
- Respondents felt they received inadequate or uncompetitive salaries and department funding
- The single-year contract created anxiety for respondents who desired more job protections
- Respondents felt they lack opportunities for growth or advancement within in the institution
- Respondents felt their workload was unreasonable but felt institutional pressure to manage it anyway
- Respondents believed that the University had work to do around diversity and marginalized identities
- Respondents were hopeful for change with the current and upcoming leadership transitions

** Note: June 2021 was a unique time in the history of Radford University; this survey was conducted more than a year into the COVID-19 pandemic and shortly after President Hemphill announced his departure from Radford University.
